Compassionate or Compelling Evidence Can Be Accepted by UNSW College

Compassionate and compelling circumstances are matters which are, in most cases, beyond the control of the student and which will impact their capacity to progress with their planned course of study.

In the below table UNSW College sets out what it considers to be compassionate and compelling circumstances, and the documentary evidence required to support a claim.

Compassionate or Compelling Circumstances	Documentary Evidence Required
Compassionate or compelling circumstances that apply under all UNSW College policies
Serious illness or injury of a student	Medical certificate from an AHPRA registered practitioner, stating that the student was unable to fulfil attendance / course progress requirements. Where the student is offshore, other medical evidence may be accepted at UNSW College's sole discretion.
Death or serious illness of a close family member such as a parent or grandparent.	A death certificate which is written in English or is translated into English by a NAATI accredited translator, or appropriate alternative evidence.
Major political upheaval or natural disaster in the home country of the student requiring emergency travel by the student that is, or is likely to have, an impact on the student's ability to continue or commence their studies.	Any reasonable evidence of the event, including copies of flight/travel bookings and/or any reasonable evidence of the impact such event has had on the student's studies
A traumatic experience where a student is victim of, or a witness to, a serious accident or crime, and this experience has adversely impacted on the student.	A hospital report, police report or an AHPRA registered health practitioner's report. Where the student is offshore, other medical evidence may be accepted in UNSW College's sole discretion.
Misadventure, for example: an unusual/one-off event such as a major traffic incident that prevented the student from being able to travel to and attend class.	Any reasonable evidence of the event.
Other
Any others circumstances that UNSW College considers to be compassionate and compelling in nature, in its sole discretion	Any reasonable evidence of the event.
